

See Wildflowers

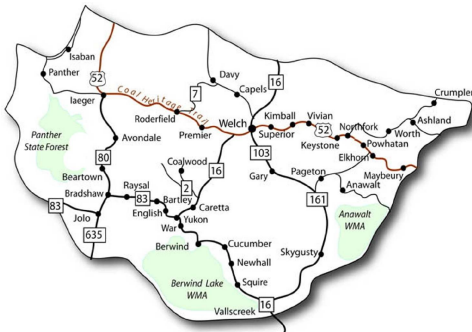

Way Down South In West Virginia

September 7-9

Panther Wildlife Management Area (McDowell County)

© Kevin Campbell

Map of McDowell County

Join the West Virginia Native Plant Society on an exploration of the vegetation of this old second growth hemlock forest on the Cumberland Plateau.

The fall flora of McDowell county is not well documented, we can expect to add county records and perhaps find some unexpected treats or even state records.

Group lodging is available for Friday and Saturday nights, one night for $15 and both for $30. At this facility it is bring your own linens and expect to use a communal kitchen.

Group Meeting Lodge

For further details contact:

Kevin Campbell for directions, schedule, facilities descriptions e-mail-hazwaste99@hotmail.com

Judi White to make reservations and pay for lodging e-mail judiwhite@suddenlink.net

On the WEB <http://www.wvnps.org>