

Tomlinson Run State Park West Virginia Hancock County
June 25, 2022 Field Trip
Kevin Campbell

The West Virginia Native Plant Society had a field trip to Tomlin Run State Park on June 25, 2022. Our main hike occurred in the “wilderness canyon” area of the park. Tomlinson Run is a very scenic rocky stream which is often lined with cliffs. The north facing cliffs makes the perfect habitat for Canada Yew, but after much searching, we never found any. Some of us made an afternoon stop at the Tomlinson Run Lake to complete our day.

Please note the nomenclature and status symbols follows that of the Checklist and Atlas of the Vascular Flora of West Virginia, Harmon, Ford-Wentz and Grafton 2006, and thus current publications may use different names. County records, and rare lists are as of 2006.
